

DPSCITT Training Hubs in Barnstaple & Plymouth!

DPSCITT provides all trainees with outstanding school-based training close to their home. Fully integrated with this, trainees receive exceptional central training where they learn about core elements of the teaching role. Central training normally takes place at our base close to Exeter enabling a class-sized cohort to share their experience and support each other through the course and beyond.

From September 2023, we will be introducing North Devon & Plymouth Training Hubs. Based at Roundswell Primary School in Barnstaple, and Leigham Primary School in Plymouth, these will provide trainees with the opportunity to access more of this award-winning training closer to home.

The carefully structured programme will include a combination of:

- Face-to-face training with expert trainers at each hub
- Live-streamed sessions facilitated in person by a DPSCITT course leader.
- A few online training sessions with the whole cohort.
- Around 30 whole-cohort sessions across the year at our main base.
(These sessions will start at 9.45 and end at 4.00 to allow for travel).

The new 'Hub' programme will ensure trainees benefit from:

- ✓ Outstanding, research-informed and practical training, tailored to their needs
- ✓ The diversity of experience and personalities within a large 'class-sized' group
- ✓ A more personal experience within a smaller group.
